Pius Yvon GAUDET

Athlete – Hockey

Pius Yvon Gaudet made his mark in the sport of hockey, earning numerous accolades throughout his career; star defenceman, outstanding blueliner, most watched player, and perhaps the greatest achievement, the most valuable player title. The stocky athlete from St. Joseph played both hockey and baseball between 1936 and 1960, but it was the former sport that took him beyond the Maritimes. In the 1940s he tried out for the Providence Reds in the AHL and played for the PCHL title winners, the Hollywood Wolves. In Canada, Pius played for the Halifax Crescents, University of St. Joseph, Junior Wheelers, Senior Moncton Maroons, the Saint John Beavers and Mont Jolie, of the Lower St. Lawrence Senior Hockey League. As a baseball player, he went all the way to the New Brunswick finals with the St. Joseph's Villagers.
