Léo THIBODEAU

Builder - Skating

The founder of the Bicentennial Adult Skating Club, Léo Thibodeau has been skating for 63 years. After founding the club in 1984, he developed the Learn-to-Skate program for adults, children and people with disabilities. In 1987, he designed a skate-sled to enable physically disabled people an opportunity to participate in the sport. More than 2000 people have since benefited.
