Travis JAYNER

Athlete - Short Track Speed Skating

Travis Jayner is a short track speed skating Olympian, winner of four World Championships and over 20 World Cup Medals. He is the first athlete from the tri-community area to win an Olympic Medal, bringing home a Bronze Medal in the 5,000 m relay from the 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympics. He pioneered short track excellence in the region, spending time on the development of programs that train youth in the community. Travis is best known, however, for his kind and energetic personality, having spent time speaking words of encouragement to students in the area. He's an advocate of pursuing unique opportunities and makes it a personal mission to inspire others to chase their dreams.
